DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

1. The drawings are objected to as failing to comply with 37 CFR 1.84(p)(5) because they include the following reference character(s) not mentioned in the description: Ai in Fig. 1; W in Fig. 4; Eo in Fig. 8. Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d), or amendment to the specification to add the reference character(s) in the description in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(b) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

3. Claims 1-22 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the enablement requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention.

It is not understood how the generator and the ballast resistor as recited in claim 2 can be incorporated with the comparator as recited in claim 1. Since Fig. 2 of the present invention does show the system including only comparator 224; Fig. 3 of the present invention does show the system include only generator 320 and ballast resistor 360; and Fig. 6a does show the system include only ballast resistor.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. Claims 1-22 are, insofar as understood, rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Brug et al., 6,424,565.

Brug et al., 6,424,565, discloses in Fig. 4 a system that program a plurality of memory cells 40-50; wherein each of memory comprising: first bottom electrode 20-24; second top electrode 26-28 as shown in Fig. 1; functional layer 60-64, as shown in Figs.2A-B, formed over first bottom electrode 20-24 to facilitate charge migration (see lines 33-40, column 3); control component comprising comparator 160, as shown in Fig. 4, for comparing the the read voltage of the memory cell with a reference voltage to equalize the potentials of first bottom electrode 20-24 for determining the its logic state (see lines 1-9, column 3 and 6-37, column 6);

a diode structure 180-182 as shown in Fig. 5 (see lines 38-56, column 6).

What is not shown in Brug et al., 6,424,565, is the limitation as recited in claim 2.

Since the claimed invention does not clearly define the control component comprising the combination of the comparator, the generator and the ballast resistor as being rejected under 35 USC 112, first paragraph, as set forth above, therefore, claim 2 would have been also rendered obvious under 35 USC 103(a) as being unpatentable over Brug et al., 6,424,565.

Conclusion

6. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
